

TERMS OF THE GAZETTE.

RATES OF SUBSCRIPTION.—One year (12 issues) $1.00; six months, 75 cts; three months, 50 cts. ADVERTISING.—One inch first insertion, $1; each subsequent insertion, 50 cts; displayed advertisements will be charged according to the space occupied at above rates.

TO REGULAR ADVERTISERS.—In order to receive the full benefit of their advertisements, both as to rate of charges and manner of displaying their notices, they should send their notices to the printer in advance of the date when they are to be inserted, and in a plain, legible hand.

THE MORRISTOWN GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 4, 1882.

FOR GOVERNOR:
GEN. W. B. BATE,
OF DAVIDSON.

FOR CONGRESS:
ROBERT L. TAYLOR,
OF CARTER COUNTY.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Col. Thos. H. Reeves, as representative of Maj. A. H. Pettibone, having declined to agree to a list of appointments for joint discussion between the candidates for Congress from the First Congressional District of Tennessee, and having published a list of appointments for Hon. A. H. Pettibone alone, this is to give notice that Hon. R. L. Taylor will attend at the times and places designated in said list, accepting a division of time for himself, and offering the same to all his competitors:

Turley's Mill, Wednesday,	4
Big Creek, Friday,	6
Newport, Saturday,	7
Greeneville, Monday,	9
Hull's Gap, Wednesday,	11
Stony Point, Thursday,	12
Kingsport, Friday,	13
Acadia, Saturday,	14
Blountville, Monday,	16
Bristol, Tuesday,	17
Elizabethton, Wednesday,	19
Stony Creek, Thursday,	20
Crab Orchard, Friday,	21
Taylorville, Monday,	23
Road Creek, Tuesday,	24
Erwin, Thursday,	26
Flag Pond, Friday,	27
Johnson, Monday,	29
Morrisville, Tuesday,	30
Fowler's Grove, Thursday,	31

W. S. DICKSON.

Ch. Dem. Cong. Ex. Com. 1st Dist.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.

Hon. Isham G. Harris, Senior Senator from Tennessee—an honest man, a patriot, and a statesman—will speak to his constituents at Morrisville, Monday, October 30th. We want all our people to come out and hear this great orator, the last of the great statesmen that is left of a generation that is rapidly passing away. Since Maynard has "shuffled off this mortal coil," he has no peer in Tennessee, and whilst he stands as the typical representative of an American manhood, come out one and all and honor him, for in so doing you will honor yourselves. Senator Harris's appointments for East Tennessee are as follows:

Madisonville, Monroe county, Friday, Oct. 27.
Knoxville, Knox county, Saturday, Oct. 28.
Morristown, Hamblen county, Monday, Oct. 30.
Rogersville, Hawkins county, Tuesday, Oct. 31.
Blountville, Sullivan county, Wednesday, Nov. 1.
Union Depot, Sullivan county, Thursday, Nov. 2.

DEMOCRATS FEELING GOOD.

From every indication we will stamp the field and be crowned with a triumphant victory in November. From the mountains to the father of waters, the news comes booming that the people are marshaling their forces and moving to the front. Without a dissenting voice every one agrees that the June convention was the most typical and representative body that was ever assembled in the State. It was a people's convention. The convention that put our standard in the hands of Hon. R. L. Taylor was of the same character, and a more determined and resolute body of men were never congregated together. When our gallant standard-bearer stepped upon the rostrum the whole audience was enthused. Strong men were thrilled with emotions of delight, and determination beamed in every face. The people are flocking to the platform and to the appointments of the gallant and invincible Bate, and from every indication his labors will be crowned with triumph and old fashioned Democratic victory. Taylor has the look and air of conqueror. He is in fine mental and physical condition and his clarion notes will leap from his scabbard; the people from the mountains and valleys will rally around his banner, and we will march in a solid Roman legion to victory.

A GLORIOUS RESULT.

The New York Democratic Convention, at Syracuse, on the 23d, after restoring peace and concord in the party by admitting Tammany and Irving Hall to representation in its deliberations, adopted a reform platform and nominated a practical reformer as the Democratic candidate for Governor. Either one of these facts would have been a good day's work, but the accomplishment of all three shows that, in New York at least, the leaders of the Democracy have a keen appreciation of the demands of the hour. The platform reaffirms the principles of the platform of 1874; arraigns the Republican majority in Congress for failing to reduce taxation to the requirements of an honest and frugal administration; and inveighs against the river and harbor bill; declares the nomination of Secretary Folger for Governor of New York "an alarming spectacle of federal intervention in State elections," demands a reform and purification of the civil service, and enactment of legislation forbidding the appointment of officeholders; deprecates the neglect of the present administration to redress outrages on foreign-born citizens; charges the Republican party with debasing the State's representation in Congress and promoting the schemes of corporations and monopolists; calls for a restoration of the State National Guard, an amendment of the constitution permitting local self-government to cities and legal primaries; favors free canals and close supervision of railway rates by a State commission; vindicates the claims of labor to the State's fostering care and protection, and, finally, condemns the distribution of public lands to private corporations. Platforms, however, are lifeless things. It is to the record of Grover Cleveland, the reform mayor of Buffalo, the nominee for the governorship, that the people will look for the real animus and programme of the party. In case it shall carry New York this fall, as from present indications it seems likely to do, with a perspicacity creditable to their intelligence, the New York Democrats recognize that reform is the live question of the times, and they show themselves wise in their day and generation in choosing an untainted man of vigorous character to give effect to their wishes. Mayor Cleveland, who is comparatively a young man, who is eminently life poor, but has risen to prominence by his own industry and integrity. As was remarked by the gentleman placing him in nomination, "He has held but few offices, but has discharged his duties in a manner that challenges the approval of all people and all classes."

GOOD NEWS FROM SOUTH CAROLINA.

At the moment of our going to press, we have this dispatch from President Gregg:

GREENSBORO, S. C., Sept. 30, 1882.

To the Editor of the Morristown Gazette:

The Railroad is a fixed fact. Governor Haywood, of South Carolina, has signed a bill for the consolidation of the road. Let Morristown boom!

A. H. GREGG.

AN INTERVIEW CONCERNING THE STATE BONDS.

WATERLY, Sept. 28.—In a brief interview with Mr. H. R. Lucas, Jr., of Louisiana, a highly intelligent lawyer, just from the office of Comptroller Nolan, in New York city, and now en route to his home, he stated that the funding of bonds was steadily progressing, and that $8,500,000 in bonds had been received. A World reporter, who interviewed him as he passed through Nashville, a few days ago, made him to say that Nolan, Polk and Nunn had each up to the present time received $11,000 as compensation for funding, when it was $11,000 to be divided between the three. He arrives at the station in the following manner: The $500,000, it has taken 3,600 bonds of all denominations, and since the fee is $2 per each bond, 3,600 multiplied by $2 equals $11,200, to be divided between Nolan, Nunn and Polk. I make this correction at his request. He states that the average amount received per day is $75,000. Among the funders of bonds, he saw one gentleman bring in $70,000 belonging to widows and orphans. He spoke of the similarity of love and other debts of Louisiana to Tennessee's debt, and seemed to think that the suit now pending against that State would have its weight upon the State debt of Tennessee. The bonds were owned by New Hampshire and New York. Said bonds were issued during the War of the Rebellion and carried an interest of 6 per cent. The case will be brought up for trial some time this fall.

Improvement for mind and Body.

There is more strength-restoring power in a bottle of Parker's Ginger Tonic than in a bushel of malt or a gallon of milk. As an appetizer, blood purifier and kidney corrector, there is nothing like it, and invalids consequently find it a wonderful invigorant for mind and body.—Commercial.

TAYLOR AND PETTIBONE AT SNEEDVILLE.

TUESDAY, TENN., Sept. 29, 1882.

To the Editor of the Morristown Gazette:

According to appointment Taylor and Pettibone met in Sneedville with a good crowd of attentive hearers. The Major, as usual, wielded the bloody shirt, tries to arouse the prejudices of a passions of the people. Bob gave him a regular skinning, showing up that Pettibone dodges every important question. While in Congress the Major boasts of getting through so many pension claims, reads a list of the names, and asks, "Did I do right?" Big Jo. Baker answers, "Yes you did." Big Jo. was on his list of pensions. Green B. Wolfe says Bob lies on the tariff question. For instant on trace chocks, Bob says the farmers pay 85 per cent. on every pair. Wolfe being a one-horse merchant, says it is a lie—they don't cost that much; they only cost 33 per cent. However, brother Wolfe is excusable as he is on a good share of Pettibone's whisky. Here, Relief or something else that made him feel to talk. Yours truly,

A CLERKMAN.

Don't Waste Money

Outrashes extracts when you can buy a lasting perfume so delightful fragrant and refreshing as Floreston Cologne.

HAWKINS COUNTY DEPARTMENT.

L. L. POATS, Editor.

BEES has been retelling in Rogersville at 7 and 8 cents per pound. Rather high.

Corn on damp, low ground is not good this year, but the upland crop is excellent. The general crop in the county is a large one.

Hogs to fatten seem to be rather scarce this year. They are in great demand, and are bringing unprecedented prices. This is a good time to sell stock hogs.

WE BELIEVE it is about given up all over the country that General William B. Bate will be our next Governor. This is right. Bate is one of the heroes of Monterey and richly deserves the honor.

DR. PIERCE, the druggist, is not only the best looking man in town, but he has the prettiest house in Rogersville. The Doctor is a man of excellent taste in everything except politics. In the political line his taste is wretched.

MAJ. HARRY AIKEN has built a handsome office on the northwest corner of the depot lot for his personal case. That will be a good place for this winter to stop and rest on his long journey from home to the Court-house. We thank you for the accommodation, Major.

A BUSINESS is quite dull in Hawkins county at present. The farmers are not willing to take the price offered for their wheat, and buyers are not anxious to purchase even at 90 cents per bushel. The signs of the times point to a fall in every article of farm produce.

A BEAUTIFUL specimen of Hawkins county marble may be seen in the Register's office in the Court-house at Rogersville. The pretty little slab is polished until it shines almost like a mirror and is greatly admired. It came from the quarry of our friends Fulkerson & Chesnut, and was presented to us by Sam L. Thank you, sir.

Found at Last.

An agreeable dressing for the hair, that will stop itching, has been long sought for. "Pettibone's Hair Dressing" is the only one that fully supplies this want.

WHEN Gov. Alvin Hawkins came along here through East Tennessee, he thought that out of those taxes, the State levies a tax upon shows. Gov. Hawkins called his thing a "speaking" and in this way evaded the tax. Nevertheless it was a show and nothing else. The Governor had his two trained puppies with him. One of them was named "Josselyn," the other "Beasley," and the show consisted of the antics of these two pups. Whenever Hawkins would snap his fingers at "Josselyn," the little mild-eyed pup would look "Whisky," "Brandy," "Bate," and when he snapped his fingers at "Beasley," that little crooked, stump-tailed fellow would bark "Bate," "Bate," "Greenback," "Greenback."

OUR old and valued friend, James Wright, of Mooreburg, Hawkins county, has sold his store-house and merchandise business to his son-in-law, Dr. Summers, who will succeed Capt. Wright in the mercantile business at that place. We congratulate the good people of Mooreburg upon the acquisition to their business and social life of two such people as Dr. Summers and his excellent lady.

THE Rogersville and Jefferson railroad has been doing a heavy and increasing business for the last two years. We are always gratified to speak of and note the prosperity of Maj. Harry Aiken. He saved our old town from falling into the "backwoods," and we all ought to encourage him in every way to build up his road, for in doing so we build up Rogersville and thus enhance our own fortunes.

COMMISSIONERS have been engaged lately laying off the real estate of the late Judge John A. McKinney for division among his heirs-at-law. The ground between the depot and the residence of Miss Mary McKinney has been laid off into building lots and will soon be placed on the market. Persons who wish to build here will now have an opportunity to secure handsome and convenient sites for dwelling houses. We hope the village will improve.

MAJ. PETTIBONE's speech here in Rogersville was pretty much all about himself. There was no statesmanship in the harangue. It was all about Pettibone.

"Little Jack Horner Sat in the corner Eating a Christmas pie, He stuck in his thumb, He pulled out a plum And said what a great man am I."

That is about the beginning and ending of the great speech of the Big Boss of the Republican party in the First Congressional District. Shades of the mighty dead, to what a pitiful pass have we come at last!

THERE were at least one thousand people present at the speaking between the candidates for Congress in Rogersville on Monday the 25th. While Pettibone was speaking good words prevailed. When Taylor arose to reply a good deal of confusion prevailed. Maj. Pettibone's friends (or rather a large number of them) seemed to feel that no one had a right to run against their "Big Boss." When Judge Randolph took the stand the storm burst in all its fury. There were shouts and yells and hisses. The crowd below roared and howled. The Judge could not make himself heard, and finally had to desist and give up. It was bad treatment; very bad treatment, and we are sorry it occurred in Rogersville or Hawkins county. But it was and is a family quarrel between Judge Randolph and Maj. Pettibone. If they can stand such conduct, we can.

quarrel between Judge Randolph and Maj. Pettibone. If they can stand such conduct, we can.

LAST June we had three weekly papers running in Rogersville. Now we have not one. They are all gone. The Press and Times died a natural death. It was sickly from its birth. The Patriot bursted a blood-vessel and bled itself to death while it was still an infant. The Spectator dried up and kicked the air, so that editor and publisher would move into a broader field of activity. Well, the boys are in that "broad field now," and we sincerely hope that they will so cultivate that field as to win the end reap a bounteous harvest of gold and fame. Work while the sun shines, young men, and your reward will surely come.

FRANK M. FULKERSON, Esq., has consented to be a candidate for Representative of Hawkins county in the lower branch of the next Legislature. Mr. Fulkerson is a lawyer whose reputation is as broad as the limits of the State. He is a man of ability, a man of prudence, a man of thorough honesty and every way fitted for a law-maker. He has always been moderate and conservative in his political views and actions. The people know him, they can trust him, and they will elect him. Old Hawkins will plant her flag on the dome of the State capitol once more, thank the Lord and the good people!

FUSSELL, or Few-sell, don't look much like a Governor. He is a soft, delicate looking little fellow, and ought to have a prudent, elderly lady going around with him to take care of him. The fact is if the little gentleman had on a nice white dress, with his hair fashionably frizzed, a blue sash around his delicate waist and a stick in his hand, and a general school-girl of uncertain age—but as a Governor, Gewililkins! he's too soft and delicate and smells too much of cinnamon draps. We rough Democrats up here in the mountains can't vote for Few-sell. We want a man fit to wear breeches when we start to make a Governor.

Found at Last.

An agreeable dressing for the hair, that will stop itching, has been long sought for. "Pettibone's Hair Dressing" is the only one that fully supplies this want.

WHEN Gov. Alvin Hawkins came along here through East Tennessee, he thought that out of those taxes, the State levies a tax upon shows. Gov. Hawkins called his thing a "speaking" and in this way evaded the tax. Nevertheless it was a show and nothing else. The Governor had his two trained puppies with him. One of them was named "Josselyn," the other "Beasley," and the show consisted of the antics of these two pups. Whenever Hawkins would snap his fingers at "Josselyn," the little mild-eyed pup would look "Whisky," "Brandy," "Bate," and when he snapped his fingers at "Beasley," that little crooked, stump-tailed fellow would bark "Bate," "Bate," "Greenback," "Greenback."

OUR old and valued friend, James Wright, of Mooreburg, Hawkins county, has sold his store-house and merchandise business to his son-in-law, Dr. Summers, who will succeed Capt. Wright in the mercantile business at that place. We congratulate the good people of Mooreburg upon the acquisition to their business and social life of two such people as Dr. Summers and his excellent lady.

THE Rogersville and Jefferson railroad has been doing a heavy and increasing business for the last two years. We are always gratified to speak of and note the prosperity of Maj. Harry Aiken. He saved our old town from falling into the "backwoods," and we all ought to encourage him in every way to build up his road, for in doing so we build up Rogersville and thus enhance our own fortunes.

COMMISSIONERS have been engaged lately laying off the real estate of the late Judge John A. McKinney for division among his heirs-at-law. The ground between the depot and the residence of Miss Mary McKinney has been laid off into building lots and will soon be placed on the market. Persons who wish to build here will now have an opportunity to secure handsome and convenient sites for dwelling houses. We hope the village will improve.

MAJ. PETTIBONE's speech here in Rogersville was pretty much all about himself. There was no statesmanship in the harangue. It was all about Pettibone.

"Little Jack Horner Sat in the corner Eating a Christmas pie, He stuck in his thumb, He pulled out a plum And said what a great man am I."

That is about the beginning and ending of the great speech of the Big Boss of the Republican party in the First Congressional District. Shades of the mighty dead, to what a pitiful pass have we come at last!

THERE were at least one thousand people present at the speaking between the candidates for Congress in Rogersville on Monday the 25th. While Pettibone was speaking good words prevailed. When Taylor arose to reply a good deal of confusion prevailed. Maj. Pettibone's friends (or rather a large number of them) seemed to feel that no one had a right to run against their "Big Boss." When Judge Randolph took the stand the storm burst in all its fury. There were shouts and yells and hisses. The crowd below roared and howled. The Judge could not make himself heard, and finally had to desist and give up. It was bad treatment; very bad treatment, and we are sorry it occurred in Rogersville or Hawkins county. But it was and is a family quarrel between Judge Randolph and Maj. Pettibone. If they can stand such conduct, we can.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as Brown's Iron Bitters, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind. Dec. 1, 1880. For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from nervousness and I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any, my appetite is improved, my kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. L. SANCHEZ.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend Brown's Iron Bitters. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

Having carried his State for the Republican party by very handsome plurality, Mr. Blaine is again looming up before the Stalwarts as the dangerous leader of the majority faction that went out of power when Garfield went to the grave. If it had been possible for the Republican party to spare Maine this year, the Stalwart leaders would have preferred a Fusion success rather than a Blaine victory. But for risking the loss of a Senator and the equally important loss of Congressmen—disasters that would have been fatal to all Stalwart help would have been withheld from the Maine canvass, and Mr. Blaine left to fight the fusion against the sympathies of the Stalwarts. As it is Mr. Blaine appears with new prestige, and, more than ever, the idol of the Republican party.

A Beneficent Action.

The miserable looks and feelings of those confined at desks or work tables are caused by weak Stomach, Kidneys or Bowels. Parker's Ginger Tonic with out intoxication has such a beneficial action on these organs and so cleanses the poisonous matter from the system, that rough cheeks and poor health are soon brought back again.—Express.

MORRISTOWN

MALE HIGH SCHOOL

T. J. DAVENPORT, A. M., Prin.

1882--1883.

This school is located in Morristown, East Tennessee, a healthy, business, growing town, on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia Railroad, and at the terminus of the Cincinnati, Cumberland Gap and Charleston railroad. There is here every facility for intellectual, social and moral improvement.

The next session will begin Monday, September 4, 1882, and continue two terms of 28 weeks each.

TUITION PER TERM OF 28 WEEKS:

Orthography, Reading, Penmanship, Primary Arithmetic and Primary Geography, $5.00

Higher Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography, History and Composition, $5.00

Elementary Algebra, Natural Philosophy, Physical Geography and Rhetoric, $5.00

Chemistry, Botany, Zoology, Latin, $10.00

Classical and Moral Philosophy, Logic, Higher Mathematics, Latin and Greek, $10.00

Contingent Fee, $1.00

One-half of tuition and contingent fee must be paid in advance.

Students will be made for absence except in cases of protracted illness.

Text-book assistance will be secured to meet the demands of the school.

Examinations will be held, and rigidly enforced.

Board can be had from $5 to $10 per month.

For further particulars address the Principal, T. J. DAVENPORT, Morristown, Tenn.

Aug. 25, 5m.

CARSON COLLEGE,

MOSSY CREEK, TENN.

Located on the E. T. Va. & Ga. Railroad, 30 Miles East of Knoxville.

1st Term of Session, 1882-83, Opens Thursday Aug. 24; the 2d, January 17.

FACULTY:

Rev. B. G. MANARD, A. M., President and Professor Literature and Philosophy.

Rev. S. W. TINDALL, A. M., Professor Ancient and Modern Languages.

Rev. S. E. JONES, A. M., Professor Mathematics and Natural Science.

Rev. J. H. BAKER, A. M., Professor English and Natural Science.

Principal Primary Department.

Course of Instruction:

As so extensive, as indicated by the respective Professions.

Expenses:

Tuition, per Term, from $10 to $20.

Board, from $5 to $10.

Contingent fee and half of tuition required on entering unless otherwise agreed.

Text-books and tuition free to all ministerial students recommended by their churches.

Advantages:

In the character of the instruction—its high standard, its intellectual, moral and social.

In the freedom from all temptations to vice, in the way of liquor or gambling saloons.

In the absence of all causes for extravagance in dress.

In the privilege of attending on the religious exercises of the various denominations, as Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, &c.

In the library societies, and the use of their libraries as well as the freedom of the reading room and lecture theatre, which are available to the students.

In the course system, consisting of weekly and monthly lectures. The former, by the Faculty, and the latter, by the students.

In the "Practical" system, in which the students are required to give practical lessons in the various branches of the course.

In the system of attending on the religious exercises of the various denominations, as Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, &c.

In the library societies, and the use of their libraries as well as the freedom of the reading room and lecture theatre, which are available to the students.

In the course system, consisting of weekly and monthly lectures. The former, by the Faculty, and the latter, by the students.

In the "Practical" system, in which the students are required to give practical lessons in the various branches of the course.

In the system of attending on the religious exercises of the various denominations, as Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, &c.

In the library societies, and the use of their libraries as well as the freedom of the reading room and lecture theatre, which are available to the students.

In the course system, consisting of weekly and monthly lectures. The former, by the Faculty, and the latter, by the students.

In the "Practical" system, in which the students are required to give practical lessons in the various branches of the course.

In the system of attending on the religious exercises of the various denominations, as Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, &c.

In the library societies, and the use of their libraries as well as the freedom of the reading room and lecture theatre, which are available to the students.

In the course system, consisting of weekly and monthly lectures. The former, by the Faculty, and the latter, by the students.

In the "Practical" system, in which the students are required to give practical lessons in the various branches of the course.

In the system of attending on the religious exercises of the various denominations, as Methodist, Presbyterian, Baptist, &c.

In the library societies, and the use of their libraries as well as the freedom of the reading room and lecture theatre, which are available to the students.

In the course system, consisting of weekly and monthly lectures. The former, by the Faculty, and the latter, by the students.

"DID YOU"

Get a pair," asked one native of the other until it is a household word that

WILLIAMS, GEO. C.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend Brown's Iron Bitters. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

Having carried his State for the Republican party by very handsome plurality, Mr. Blaine is again looming up before the Stalwarts as the dangerous leader of the majority faction that went out of power when Garfield went to the grave. If it had been possible for the Republican party to spare Maine this year, the Stalwart leaders would have preferred a Fusion success rather than a Blaine victory. But for risking the loss of a Senator and the equally important loss of Congressmen—disasters that would have been fatal to all Stalwart help would have been withheld from the Maine canvass, and Mr. Blaine left to fight the fusion against the sympathies of the Stalwarts. As it is Mr. Blaine appears with new prestige, and, more than ever, the idol of the Republican party.

THE ONE PRICE

CLOTHING FOR NOTHING,

Clothing Given Away.

The Store is now open to the public and those that are looking for bargains in Clothing and

GOODS

Will find it to their advantage to call and examine the stock of

The One Price Clothier.

Manicured, for the first time in the annals of Morristown, the oft quoted statement,

Manicured, for the first time in the annals of Morristown, the oft quoted statement,

Manicured, for the first time in the annals of Morristown, the oft quoted statement,